PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Hi to all,

Well, this week was weird. Got sick Sunday night and through Monday. Felt better Tuesday, so felt it was stomach flu, then Wednesday felt a little worse so called the Doctor. Had a video visit today and found out it was the stomach flu. He recommended I stay home 'til Monday to get over it and not spread it, and then, if I felt normal, I could resume normal activities.

The other news is that the winner of the Christmas Wreath from last December hasn't made any effort to pick it up even after many calls to her and giving her a deadline to pick it up. So last week we redrew another winner and Sonia Nelson is our new winner! Congrats Sonia, enjoy it!

Andy Cooper gave a class on carving a fish caricature and by all accounts it was a big success and enjoyed by all. I also cancelled my bird carving class for this week and that will resume next week. Please do some work on them at home to make up for the week we missed.

We are still meeting every week and miss all of you who are uncomfortable coming out. Thank you, Bob Jones, for your donation. It will go to good use.

We have had some donations from family members of some of our members who have passed away. We will be going through them with board members to decide exactly what to do with them. If we decide there is enough to sell to members, I will send another message letting all of you know when.

See you all next week, Marty Wells
